

Box plot showing the distribution of Age at diagnosis (Y-axis, 0 to 100) across two Status categories: Normal and Glioma (X-axis). The plot indicates that the difference in age at diagnosis between the two groups is not statistically significant (ns). The Normal group has a median age around 55, while the Glioma group has a median age around 60.

